Douglass Fun Facts

Antilles Field, directly next to Voorhees Chapel, is flat and level because Douglass used to have an archery club.

There used to be a pool in the basement of Jameson Residence Hall. You can still find the sign with an arrow pointing to the entrance. It has since been drained and is no longer used.

The Loree Gym mostly houses dance classes, but if you go down a flight of stairs, there is a manual set up bowling alley!

DOUGLASS CAMPUS

Self-Guided Tour

Walk from the Douglass Parking Deck to the Douglass Student Center.

1 The Douglass Student Center is one of the five student centers. Since all of our campuses are self-sufficient, each has its own student center, recreation center, academic buildings, and housing. In the Douglass Student Center, there are auditoriums for guest speakers, rooms for clubs to meet, places to study or hang out with friends, and multiple places to eat. All of the eateries accept RU Express, which uses your Rutgers ID card like a debit card. Exit the Douglass Student Center through the George St. doors. Use the crosswalk to cross George St. and proceed down Chapel Dr. Stop in front of the Mabel Smith Douglass Library.

2 At the end of Chapel Dr. is Voorhees Chapel which is the site of weddings and two main Douglass Residential College (DRC) events each year: Yule Log and Sacred Path. To your left is College Hall where Douglass deans and advisers are located for academic and professional counseling, and where Douglass started in 1918 as the New Jersey College for Women. After the coeducation of Rutgers College in 1970, Douglass continued to function as a campus of Rutgers and is now DRC. To your right is Douglass Library which mainly houses our arts, music, and media archives. There is a computer lab on the first floor with Macs and PCs for students to use, as well as printers. Built in to the term bill is $30 worth of printing credit, so you're all set!

To the left of the library is the Kissing Bridge, which mirrors the Covered Bridge. The Kissing Bridge is a suspension bridge that was engineered by the same firm that built the Brooklyn and George Washington bridges. It's one of the most romantic spots at Rutgers-New Brunswick. Walk across the Kissing Bridge to Hickman Hall.

3 Hickman Hall houses both smaller classrooms and larger lecture halls. Many people believe that because of Rutgers' size, all of our classes will be in large lecture halls. However, this is not the case! Nearly 60% of the class at Rutgers will have 30 students or less. The general education classes will have many students, but as students get closer to completing their major, the smaller the classes will become. Exit Hickman Hall and proceed towards Bettenbender Plaza.

4 The buildings and facilities surrounding Bettenbender Plaza make up the Mason Gross School of the Arts, which offers a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Dance, Theater Arts, or Visual Arts, or a Bachelor of Music. The Mason Gross facilities include theaters, practice rooms, studios, and the Mason Gross Performing Arts Center, which is the site of nearly 500 music, dance, and theater performances each year. A study abroad opportunity at the Globe Theatre in London is available to Mason Gross students. Return to Chapel Dr. by again crossing the Kissing Bridge. Walk up Chapel Dr. towards George St. Cross George St. via the crosswalk and proceed down Nichol Ave.

5 On the right are a few brick buildings connected to each other. Most of them are for Jameson Residence Hall, which is one of the female-only housing options included in Douglass Residential College. Students can also choose to live in the Global Village living-learning community. Next to Jameson is Willets Health Center which is one of three health centers at Rutgers-New Brunswick. Next to Willets is Cabaret Theatre, which is one of three student-run theatre organizations.

- From Nichol Ave., return to the Douglass Parking Deck. Thank you for visiting the Douglass campus at Rutgers-New Brunswick!
